

I have been a licensed ham operator for almost 40 years and I am interested in the growth of ham radio as a national resource. I am opposed to any reduction of skills and/or knowledge level required to obtain a license. Therefore the removal of Morse Code from the Novice level of license would be a mistake and would hurt our hobby and our nation.